DANIELSON

They're making new records of amount mail handled at the Danjelson post-les this week, and this may be considered an encouraging fact to those who

Postmaster Raymond Allen said Tues day morning that a new high record was made Monday when 151 sucks were sent out and 51 received, this being the largest number of macks handled in a single day at the Danielson office. The figures here-with given do not include pouches or socked mail of the first class. The parcel post business is running exceedingly heavy and the volume of it promises to tecrease as the week advances and the hollday approaches.

This is a year of upsets in nature, and regularly someone comes along with a story of an out of the ordinary happening. Offers A. Downs of Brooklyn contributed the newest story Tuesday and provided incidents relative to picking dandellons in December and such like into the background. Mr. Downs said that when he went out to his barn Monday to look over his sheep he found a new-born lamb, and the arrival of lambs in December, he declared has heretofore been outside h's ken pertaining to sheep. However, the lamb has arrived, as a Christmas present, it would seem, and Mr. Downs is delighted at the up-to-date presses the belief that it may be possible
